Purpose of This Codicil

I, the Testator named above, declare this to be a codicil to my will identified above (the "Original Will"). This codicil amends the Original Will only as set out below. Except as expressly amended by this codicil, I ratify and confirm the Original Will in all other respects.

Amendment

Article/Section of Original Will Being Amended: _____

The provision identified above is amended to read as follows, and to the extent of any conflict this amended language controls over the corresponding provision of the Original Will:

Additional Amendment (if any): _____

Ratification of Remaining Provisions

All other terms, appointments, and dispositions in the Original Will not specifically amended by this codicil remain in full force and effect as originally written.

Effect on Prior Codicils

I revoke any prior codicil to the Original Will to the extent it conflicts with this codicil. This codicil, together with the Original Will and any other codicil not revoked by this one, constitutes my entire testamentary plan as of the date below.

Signing and Witnessing Requirements

A codicil generally must be executed with the same formalities the relevant state requires for a valid will — typically signing in the presence of a required number of disinterested witnesses, and in some states a self-proving affidavit or notarization to simplify probate. Requirements vary by state. Confirm and complete the formalities that apply where the Testator lives before relying on this codicil, and store it with the Original Will so both are found together.

Governing Law

This codicil shall be interpreted under the laws of the State/Country of
